

From: Becky Bratu and Henry Austin, NBC News
Sent: Fri 1/10/2014 2:23:49 PM
Subject: West Virginia chemical spill cuts water to up to 300,000, state of emergency declared
MAIL_CONVERSATION_TOPIC: West Virginia chemical spill cuts water to up to 300,000, state of emergency declared
Created: Wed 7/16/2014 1:03:11 AM

A chemical spill into a West Virginia river has led to a tap water ban for up to 300,000 people, shut down bars and restaurants and led to a run on bottled water in some stores as people looked to stock up. The federal government joined West Virginia Gov..

View article...